WELCOME TO AN OPEN WORKSHOP

Knowledge production and power across time and space

June 7th Room 7- 0042 Thunbergsvägen 3H
13.00-16.00 + post seminar

Uppsam
Föreningen för samiskrelaterad forskning i Uppsala

Donna Haraway's (1988) concept "situated knowledges" has had a major impact on methodological debates with the argument that knowledge is embodied and produced from certain positions while intimately tied to power. What does this mean in relation to hegemonic (Western) philosophical traditions? How may "alternative" knowledges be produced to influence mainstream knowledge production? The research node Science, validation, partial perspectives: Knowledge production beyond the norms has invited scholars of rhetoric, history and literature to present their perspectives.

Doxa, Perception, Knowledge

Mats Rosengren, Professor of Rhetoric, Department of Literature, Uppsala University

Dalit women challenging knowledge production and power structures

Jyoti Atwal, Associate Professor of Modern Indian History at Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi

Howling for peace: Sara Lidman and the ecology and epistemology of "sam-vettet"

Anneli Bränström-Öhman, Professor in Literature, Dept of Culture & Media Studies & UCGS, Umeå University
